For Christmas a gift with a purpose! defend and protect!

Here's the vital gift that every Policeman and woman will use to save lives. Their own lives.

Give with purpose: R. H. Sigward's complete, graphic study on how to stay alive — when in trouble.

Here's the best, most up to date book available, including chapters on knife and gun disarming, boxing, defenses and offenses for both men and women. 550 action pictures, in a 250 page handsomely bound volume.

This is your book: written for Police!

Ballots Are Coming

Within the next few days, we will put in the mail ballots for the selection of the 1958 LAW AND ORDER Awards. These will be mailed to Chiefs of Police and we ask that you return your ballot as quickly as possible.

- whereupon I would serve the search warrant and make the arrest.
- Q. You have a search warrant for the home of John Smith, and on arrival there you are met by a woman who states that her name is Mary Doe, and that she is a visitor at the home, and that none of the family is home. What action would you take?

- A. Continue the search.
- Q. Would you read a search warrant to the owner of a house before beginning your search?
- A. Yes, if conditions warranted it, although it would not be absolutely necessary.
